Indian Institute of Technology, Indore would be holding its fifth convocation for students graduated in 2017 on November 4.

ISRO chairman AS Kiran Kumar is likely to be the chief guest of the programme. Nearly 130 BTech students would get degree in the ceremony. PhD scholars will also be conferred degree.

After completing four years of studies, BTech students of 2013-17 had left the campus sans degree in May and June. The institute had given provisional degree to them and asked them to return for original degree when intimated. Nearly five months after they passed out, students would be called by the institute to collect their degree on November 4. The institute stated that only those students would be given away degrees during convocation ceremony who will participate in convocation rehearsal on November 3.
