To celebrate World Environment Day, a poster making competition was held by the team of World Animal Protection at Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Indore. The competition aimed to engage participation from different backgrounds like children, students working and non-working professionals. The event aimed to create awareness in society about how animals play a crucial role in protecting the environment, to raise awareness on environmental conservation and advocate for a sustainable future. The event theme focused on the role of wild animals in protecting environment.

World Animal Protection, formerly known as the World Society for the Protection of Animals (WSPA), is a global non-profit organization dedicated to improving the lives of animals and promoting their welfare worldwide. The event began with a brief overview of World Environment Day. The event was supported and assisted by members of Wildlife Club of Indian Institute of Technology, Indore.

The competition received an overwhelming response and after careful deliberation, top three winners were chosen based on their artistic talent, message clarity and alignment with the theme. The winners received cash prize and certificates.

The poster making competition stands as a testament to the power of art to inspire, educate, and mobilise individuals towards a more sustainable and compassionate world.
