The Indian Institute of Technology Indore's Wildlife Prakriti Club, in partnership with World Animal Protection, hosted an engaging live quiz event focused on flora and fauna and role of wild animals in protecting our ecosystem, marking a significant stride in environmental awareness and conservation efforts.

With a resolute mission to raise awareness about endangered species and underscore viable solutions for their protection, the event featured a captivating live quiz. Over the years, the Wildlife Prakriti Club and World Animal Protection have observed important occasions such as World Elephant Day, National Tiger's Day, and International Sparrow Day, consistently advocating for the preservation of our planet's diverse wildlife.

The event, which took place on Saturday, saw an overwhelming response, with a registration count of 70 enthusiastic students eager to deepen their understanding of the intricate relationship between plants and animals. The quiz encompassed a diverse range of questions, spanning from the magnificent to the minute, fostering an atmosphere of curiosity and learning.

The quiz culminated in the recognition of three outstanding winners, lauded for their exceptional knowledge of flora and fauna. In addition, two participants were awarded well-deserved consolation prizes, motivating participants and reinforcing the importance of cultivating an appreciation for our natural world.

"The success of this event is a testament to the dedication of the Wildlife Prakriti Club and the collaborative spirit shared with World Animal Protection. This event not only showcased the dedication and vision of both organisations but also highlighted the significance of cultivating environmental consciousness within the community. It served as an inspiration for positive change, uniting efforts towards a harmonious coexistence between mankind and the natural world.

The Wildlife Prakriti Club at the Indian Institute of Technology Indore is a student-driven initiative dedicated to fostering environmental awareness and advocating for the conservation of wildlife and their habitats. Through events, workshops, and campaigns, the club aims to inspire positive change in the community's perspective towards nature. World Animal Protection is a global nonprofit organisation dedicated to improving animal welfare and preventing cruelty to animals in all its forms. With a presence in more than 50 countries, the organisation works tirelessly to create a world where animals are treated with respect and compassion.
