

DAVV, Taipei center join forces for course on Mandarin Language

OUR STAFF REPORTER

city.indore@fpj.co.in

Devi Ahilya Vishwavidyalaya, IIT Indore and the Education Division of the Taipei Economic and Cultural Center inked an MoU for starting a course on Mandarin language in the university.

Taiwan's ambassador to India Baoshuen Ger was present on the occasion.

Following the signing ceremony, Ger leading a Taiwanese delegation visited the Educational Multimedia Research Centre (EMRC) at Khandwa Road within the university premises. Discussions centered on educational collaboration, with engagements involving the Taiwan delegation and the university side led by vice chancellor Prof Renu Jain, registrar Dr Ajay Verma, and department heads.

"This collaboration underscores a pivotal step in strengthening cultural and educational ties between India and Taiwan, emphasising the commitment of both nations to promote language diversity and enhance educational exchanges," Renu Jain said.

Notably, a five member delegation from DAVV had visited Taiwan and inked MoUs with five universities there and solidified groundwork for future collaborations.