

Teaching Mandarin: DAVV, IIT-I sign MoU with Taiwan

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Indore: Devi Ahilya Vishwavidyalaya (DAVV) and Indian Institute of Technology, Indore (IIT-I) on Wednesday joined hands with the Taipei Economic and Cultural Centre (TECC) to introduce Mandarin language courses.

The memorandum of understanding (MoU) signing ceremony was first held at IIT-I and later at DAVV's EMRC campus on Wednesday.

The ceremony marked commencement of a strategic partnership aimed at providing over 12,000 students across 31 teaching depart-

The Taipei Economic and Cultural Centre will teach Mandarin language courses to the students of DAVV and Indian Institute of Technology, Indore ments and institutes with access to enhanced job prospects in Taiwan.

Baushuen Ger, the ambassador of Taiwan, signed the MoUs at campuses of both the institutions.

DAVV vice-chancellor professor Renu Jain said, "We are enthusiastic about the collaboration, as this will open new opportunities of employment for our students. The TECC will provide faculty for training our students in Mandarin language so that they can attain speaking level in the language. With this our students will be able to get jobs in Taiwan easily."