ZEALOUS INDOREANS HAIL FEAT

Indore: The fact that Indore bagged India's cleanest city tag for third consecutive year gave a reason for every resident to celebrate. The hat-trick was most talked about topic at cafés, in social media and households.

Indoreans used every possible innovative way to celebrate the achievement. Free Press brings you some trending wishes, posts and opinions.

“It is wonderful that Indore has been adjudged the cleanest city. All of us should strive to make Indore a world class city by improving on issues like better traffic management, safety and security especially of females. In order to make this dream of world class city a reality, IIT Indore will always continue to work tirelessly and relentlessly with the authorities.”
