

IIT-I, Vigyan Bharti to hold MPVS-2021

OUR STAFF REPORTER

Indore

A conference was organised at IIT Indore for promoting Madhya Pradesh Vigyan Sammelan and Expo (MPVS-2021), which is aimed at recognising contribution of Indian scientists.

The MPVS would be organised by IIT Indore in association with Vigyan Bharti and MP Council of Science and Technology is going to hold the MPVS-2021, from December 11-13.

The pre-conference on 'Skilled Manpower in Fabless and Fab Semiconductor Ecosystem in Madhya Pradesh' was held on Saturday.

Minister of Science and Technology Om Prakash Saklecha, IIT Indore officiating director Prof Neelesh Kumar Jain and others were present. The minister laid emphasis on the future need of Madhya Pradesh and country for alternate energy resources and methodology to be adopted to increase the number of skilled manpower in MSME sector.

Vigyan Bharti national secretary and event special guest Praveen Ramdas and state organisation secretary Prajatantra Gangele shared the recent activities and policies to invite the various academics and industries for the fabless and fab semiconductor ecosystem.

"The MPVS will consist of 17 sessions and 3 conclaves in hybrid mode with 20 organisations as co-hosts across Madhya Pradesh. The last date of registration for the conference is November 30," said MPVS general secretary Santosh Kumar Vishvakarma, who is also a faculty at IIT Indore.

Continued from page 1

Higher Edu Rankings...

Govt Dental College at Indore, which was ranked 22nd in dental category last year, had to settle with 32th rank this year. Amity University, Gwalior and Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya which had featured in the 151-200 band last year did not find a place in this year's rankings. However, Rabindranath Tagore University at Raissen climbed up from 151-200 band to 101-150 band. Pandit Dwarka Prasad Mishra Indian Institute of Information Technology, Design and Manufacturing (IIITDM) Jabalpur, which was ranked 81st last year, shot up by one position in the engineering category. In the architecture category, School of Planning and Architecture at Bhopal improved its position from 7th to 6th but Maulana Azad National Institute of Technology climbed down from 16th position to 20th position. National Law Institute University at Bhopal improved its ranking from 17th last year to 14th this year in law category. No institutions from MP found a place in rankings in pharmacy and medical categories.