

IBM branch office opens in Indore

INDORE: IBM has opened a new branch office in Indore as part of the company's ongoing expansion plan. Director IIT, Indore, Pradeep Mathur, inaugurated the new office. IBM plans to establish a footprint in over 40 Indian cities by 2013. The existing customer base in the region includes food manufacturers - Sonic Biochem and Everfresh Bakeries and Pratibha Syntex - a textile manufacturing company.