Fluxus, the annual techno-cultural festival of Indian Institute of Technology-Indore, would be held from February 4 to 7.

The 4-day festival would see participations from students of premier colleges across the country.

Fuxus is an exceptional confluence of exquisite cultural displays with technological innovations reverberating in an aura filled with excitement, amusement and splendour. It promises to transcend all the thresholds of science and entertainment.

This year, as many as 55 events will be held during the 4-day fest.

The events have been divided into four categories— Cultural Cruise, Tech Theatre, Informal Bays and Quiz Fest.

As many as 25 competitions, including dance, music, singing, drama, painting, photography would be conducted under Cultural Cruise while Tech Theatre will feature 15 competitions including intelligesture, roboone, monopoly of circuits, to name a few.

A total of nine events including treasure hunt, 47 seconds of fame and hydroshoot would be conducted under Informal Bays, the Quiz Fest will also see competitions including enigma, Bollywood quiz and lukkha quiz.

Though the fest will be inaugurated on February 4, the pre-fest activities have already begun.

Students of IIT Indore is organising events like Voice of Fluxus (solo singing), Aaja Nachle (solo dance), Dance Pe Chance (duet dance) and Anybody Can Dance (group dance) in cities like Bhopal, Chandigarh, Delhi, Mumbai and Indore to short-list artistes to perform in the festival.

While the selection process has already been conducted at Bhopal and Chandigarh, pre-fest events will be held in Delhi, Indore and Mumbai on January 21, 23 and 30 respectively.
