INDORE

Buoyed by overwhelming response to i5 Summit last year, students of Indian Institute of Management and Indian Institute of Technology in Indore have come together once again to hold second edition of the summit.

The summit will be held at IIM Indore from August 20 to 21.

The i5 Summit is a 2-day entrepreneurial carnival aimed to foster the spirit of entrepreneurship amongst the brightest minds of our country.

The event, organised jointly by IIT and IIM Indore students, intends to support young entrepreneurs by connecting them with investors and mentors to take their ideas to the next level.

Through the cross-sector panel discussions, speaker series, workshops and networking meets, i5 Summit had attracted the best minds, marquee investors and dignitaries in the past and is considered as one of the premier events for budding entrepreneurs across the country.

It is an exciting space for exchanging ideas, collaborating and networking, where participants are able to learn from industry experts and explore solutions with potential partners.

As many as 40 speakers will address the event. Prominent speakers are Joel Michael, chief global operations, Hyperloop; Bibop Gresta, COO, Hyperloop; Taru Kapoor, head, Tinder India; Anand Govindaluri, founder & CEO, Govin Capital (Singapore); Prem Singh, global president HR, Wockhardt, Balaji Chakravarthi, founder, Scovelo; Samar Singla, founder and CEO, JUGNOO; Padmaja Ruparel, president, Indian Angel Network and Apoorva Patni, director, Currae Healthcare.

Various events and competitions will also be organised during the summit.

Events of i5 summit

GET FUNDED!

Flagship event where best teams from all over the country get to pitch themselves and their ideas to VCs and industry stalwarts. Best 15 teams get the opportunity to make it to the finals and take their ideas to the next level.
