

IIT-Indore convocation after Diwali

Indian Institute of Technology, Indore would be organising its convocation ceremony after Diwali. IIT-Indore officials said that date of the convocation has not been decided as yet but it tentatively would be held after Diwali. This year, the institute has delayed its convocation ceremony which previously used to be held in the months of June or July. Last year, the institute has delayed convocation and organised it in August. This year, the convocation has been delayed till December.